Lucille Haney In Pleasing Recital At MacMurray

Miss Lucille Haney, Mezzo-soprano of the MacMurray College Music faculty, gave her annual recital at Music Hall on Sunday afternoon. She was ably assisted by Delwin Shaw, violinist and Ralph Robbins, pianist.

Miss Haney, who has a voice of unusual texture, has grown in repose as well as authority in her singing. The production of tone is easy and natural. The program was outstanding. A number of the songs were new to the listener.

In the first group of songs: "Donzelle fugitive" by Cavalli was most successfully projected. The aria "O Mio Fernando" from "La Favorita" by Donizetti seemed well suited to the singer's gifts.

The peak of the afternoon from the musical and interpretive standpoint was in the Brahms' songs with viola. The well-known melody of the second "Geistliches Wiegenlied" was treated sympathetically and musically.

The first of a group of Strauss songs "Traum durch die Dämmerung" added also to the feeling of climax. The last group contained several little known songs of charm. The diction of these songs was splendid. The voice of the singer continued to grow in warmth to the end of the program.

The other artists on the program contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the program of the afternoon. Miss Haney added two encores to the printed program. "Drink to me only with thy Eyes" was arranged by Roger Quilter and "Oliver Cromwell" an old English folk-song was arranged by the contemporary Benjamin Britten.

Mary Ellen Reynolds Weds Truman Hart

Christian Church Scene Of Pretty Wedding Sunday

An impressive ceremony at Central Christian church at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon united in marriage Miss Mary Ellen Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reynolds, 515 East Morton avenue, and Truman Hart, son of Mrs. Mayme Hart, 37 1/2 South Side Square. The Rev. Roy S. Hulan officiated at the single-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Alice Mathis Geisler presided at the organ, accompanying Dick Mills, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony, and playing the processional and recessional marches. Myron Reynolds, brother of the bride, and Bob Reynolds, the bride's cousin, acted as ushers.

Attending the bridal couple were Shirley Floberg, maid of honor, Mary Lou White, bridesmaid, and Francis D. Thurmond, best man. Lloyd West served as groomsman, and Carol Ann Reynolds, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Wears Satin Gown
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a traditional white satin gown, styled with fitted bodice and off-the-shoulder neckline of net. Satin covered buttons extended down the front of the gown from the neck to the waist, and the full, flowing skirt fell gracefully entrain. A fingertip veil designed of three tiers of net fell from a white satin, net-covered crown. For her bouquet the bride chose a colonial arrangement of white carnations, centered with three gardenias.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid were dressed in identical gowns of blue satin, fashioned with round necklines, fitted bodices, and cap sleeves. An apron effect at the waist extended around to the back of the gown to form a bustle. Matching blue mitts and crowns of rosebud headpieces completed the ensembles. Each carried a colonial bouquet.

The flower girl, Carol Ann Reynolds, was gowned in a floor-length pink organza frock designed with full skirt and puffed sleeves. She also carried a nosegay bouquet. Mrs. Reynolds chose to wear for her daughter's wedding a green crepe dress trimmed in gold and green sequins, with black accessories. Mrs. Hart was attired in a black gabardine suit with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

Reception At Hotel
Immediately following the ceremony a reception for relatives and friends of the bridal couple was held in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel. Autumn flowers flanked the candlelit serving table, which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Maxine Floberg and Mrs. Clarabelle Brown assisted in serving, while Mrs. Everett Reynolds and Mrs. M. C. Reynolds, both aunts of the bride, poured.

The couple left Sunday evening on a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside in Sterling, Ill., where the groom is employed at Sears, Roebuck and Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart were both graduated from Jacksonville high school with the class of 1947. Mrs. Hart was employed for the past year at the Elliott State Bank.

Brilliant New Comet Makes Camera Bow

"Comet 1948 L," the most brilliant aerial visitor seen in the Northern Hemisphere since 1927, is photographed by an 18-inch camera at Mount Palomar observatory, California. The comet is visible just about dawn. It was first seen in South Africa, and astronomers say it rivals the famed Halley's Comet for brilliance. They are working now to determine its orbit, and to figure out when it may be expected back again.

CORN LEADS PRICE UPTURN IN GRAIN; ARRIVALS DECLINE

Chicago, Nov. 22.—(P)—Corn took over the grain market's leadership from wheat today, advancing more than a cent at times on fairly active buying.

Arrivals of cash corn in the spot market were down considerably from recent Mondays. Prices for cash grain advanced. Some analysts felt the peak of the harvest movement had passed. Negotiations looking toward a settlement of the longshoremen's strike also helped corn.

Wheat started out firm but ran into selling from the southwest. This was believed to represent hedging pressure. Reports to the trade said producers were free sellers of cash wheat at present price levels, which are well above the government loan point.

Receipts were: wheat 15 cars, corn 520, oats 35, soybeans 34.

Wheat closed 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher. December 2.41-2.42; corn was 1 1/2-2 1/4 higher. December 1.46 1/4-1; oats were 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher. December 85 1/2-86; rye was 1/4 cent higher. ### L. S. D. Gridders Feast On Fish At River Cabin

Twenty-two boys from the Illinois School for the Deaf first and second string football teams were royally entertained at an outing Sunday afternoon at the Vannier cabin on the Illinois river at Naples, Ill.

Sponsored by Homer Nunes and Harry C. Merriman, the afternoon of fun was planned in recognition of the near-perfect record of the ISD football team this year.

The outing was planned in the form of a fish fry, with the boys making the trip via school bus, arriving at the cabin early Sunday afternoon and returning home about eight o'clock that evening.

Boating, basketball, and outdoor games made up the program for the afternoon, with a tasty and bountiful supper prepared and served by the hosts at 5 p. m. The sharpened appetites of the boys succeeded in stowing away 46 1/2 lbs. of fried fish, two gallons of baked beans, and a large quantity of potato chips, cup cakes, and cakes, not to mention all the "fixings."

"I have never seen a group of boys enjoy themselves so thoroughly and eat so much," reported Mr. Merriman.

Accompanying the boys on the trip were Kenneth Wilson, athletic director at ISD, Arthur Yates, coach, Arthur Bossarte, Paul Vannier, and the hosts, Homer Nunes and H. C. Merriman.

Big Nine Grid Coaches Select All-Star Team

Chicago, Nov. 22.—(P)—Undeclared Michigan landed four places today in the 1948 All-Big Nine football team.

Conference coaches, who annually select the team for the Associated Press, paid tribute to the title winners by voting them a predominate edge.

Runner-up Northwestern and third-place Minnesota were awarded two berths apiece. Iowa, Indiana and Purdue each received one. Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin failed to place in the No. 1 lineup.

Michigan, whose champions won three backfield spots on the 1947 team, gained three line positions this time—Dick Rifenburg, end, Al Wistert, tackle, and Dominic Tomasi, guard.

Elliott Named Quarterback

Pete Elliott, the brain behind the Wolverines' flashy attack, was named quarterback of the all-conference group.

Completing the line, which averages better than 210 pounds per man, are End Bud Grant and Guard Leo Nomellini of Minnesota, Tackle Bill Kay of Iowa and Center Alex Sargisian of Northwestern. Rifenburg, great all-around end and leading Big Nine pass catcher, was the only unanimous choice. Named on the first team by each coach, he collected the maximum of 18 points.

The 250-pound Nomellini, offensive tackle and defensive guard, bagger 17 points, being picked for a second team spot by one coach.

Murakowski Leads Backs

Other selections varied. The line-pulverizing Murakowski led the backs with 15 points. Szulborski, the conference's ground-gaining champion with 583 yards in 125 carries, and Elliott bunched 12 points apiece. Talaferro, one of the nation's outstanding trip-threaters, received 11.

Staples Injured As Our Saviour's Cage Team Wins

Robert Staples, forward on the South Jacksonville cage five, sustained a broken right arm Monday night during a tilt with the Our Saviour's quintet on the Routh floor.

Our Saviour's won the game by the top-sided score of 16-3.

Staples, 12 years old, was taken to Our Saviour's hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Vincent T. J. Lenth. He was permitted to return to his home, 1657 S. Main street, but will return to the hospital Tuesday for further X-ray studies.

The second squads played the opener, with Our Saviour's plucking an 18-4 victory.

The box score:

Our Saviour's	FG	FT	TP
Phalen	0	1	1

Coach Howard Lester of Winchester has a fine addition to his cage crew in Reggie Hankins, 6 ft. 4 in. center from Alsey. He averaged 24 points per game with Alsey's five last year, and teamed with the five returning lettermen on the Wildcat outfit that topped 20 games in the 1947 season, he should make the Scott county seat team a tough one in the Ivy league.

Glenn Smith, Pittsfield coach, wants to fill the open dates Feb. 18 and Feb. 19 for his Saukies. The Pike county team will compete in the Jacksonville Holiday tourney for the third consecutive year.

Rushville and Notre Dame have received bids to compete in the 27th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament this season. Alsey and Jacksonville, heretofore incumbents in that event, have dropped out.

Ivy teams have plenty of tough non-conference basketball games carded for this winter with Wood River, Staunton, Western Military Academy, Gillespie, ISD, Jacksonville, Mt. Sterling and Virginia, among the teams to be met.

Carrollton high will play host to the 23rd Annual Greene County basketball tourney Feb. 1-2-3-4. The host school will also play the part of defending champs since they beat a fine Eldred five for the title last year at White Hall.

California Students In Near Riot On Campus

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 22.—(P)—A near riot broke loose around the University of California campus today as word spread, the football team had been selected for the Rose Bowl.

Jubilant students battled police and firemen in street skirmishes as confires sprang up on street corners surrounding the campus.

All available police cars were rushed to the campus area. A dozen fire trucks clanged through the streets attempting to cope with the bonfire menace.

The only calm notes came from the director of athletics, and the coach, who voiced the university's official pleasure.

Thousands of students poured from classrooms when the magic words "Rose Bowl" spread through the campus.

Police and firemen, already weary from three days of home coming hijinks attendant upon the "Big game" Saturday with Stanford, and showed and battled to keep the students in line as they poured off the campus.

TORNADO HITS BOMBAY

Bombay, India, Nov. 22.—(P)—A tornado lashed Bombay last night and killed at least three persons. Officials counted 50 seriously wounded. Hundreds more were also reported injured.

Carrollton Five Opens Season At Bluffs Wednesday

"Buzzy" Bradley, Carrollton high school coach, has lost seven lettermen from his last year's high flying Hawk basketball team, and he's still smiling.

The three returning emblem winners are Gale Staples, Bill Boe and Bob Brannon, all of whom figured prominently in copping blue ribbons at the Greene County tourney, Illinois Valley Conference, and the Regional fray in the '47-48 season. These three boys average 6 ft. 2 in., as a group, and coupled with four lads who played varsity ball at Eldred High school last year, should teach for some records this winter.

The Carrollton five will journey to Bluffs Wednesday night for its opener. The Bluejays have so far failed to win a game this year, losing to Perry and Chapin in their first two encounters. Carrollton will be a decided favorite in this hardwood go.

East Coast Strike Continues As AFL Rejects Proposal

By The Associated Press

Negotiators for 65,000 striking east coast dock workers Monday night rejected an employer proposal that longshoremen "go back to work and then talk about a welfare plan."

A union spokesman said the offer was no better than a back-to-work proposal already rejected.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, said "We told them they've got to give us something different."

Union and employer negotiators met to discuss the proposed plan under which striking dock workers from Maine to Virginia would have returned to their jobs and let both sides work out details of a welfare plan.

The 13-day-old walkout has crippled east coast shipping. The union is currently asking a wage boost of 25 cents an hour. Its original demand was an hourly boost of 50 cents. Present base rate is $1.75 cents an hour.

In New York some 2,600 helpers and drivers, by union estimates, walked out Monday in a wage dispute. The workers left their jobs at 337 trucking firms to back up demands for a 22¢ cent an hour wage increase.

The strike curtailed movement of freight from some railroad yards. The Pennsylvania railroad imposed an embargo on New York-bound freight of less than carload lots, exempted are medical supplies to physicians and freight for the armed forces.

Basis of the dispute is the refusal of Local 282, AFL Teamsters, to accept a 17¢ cent hourly wage boost and an employer-financed welfare plan. Basic wages now range from $5.90 to $7.10 for a 40-hour week.

Breen And Pilot Safe After Forced Landing Of Plane

Hayward, Wis., Nov. 22.—(P)—The Milwaukee Sentinel said tonight that Bobby Breen, singing star, and his pilot, Kenneth Thompson, of Waukesha, Wis., are safe and unharmed.

The pair has been missing since yesterday when their red Stinson monoplane disappeared on a flight here from Waukesha.

But Under-sheriff Clyde Williamson said authorities had not been notified that Breen or the plane has been located.

The Sentinel said its head photographer, Leland M. Benfer, received a telephone call from a group of hunters who told him they found Breen and Thompson hiking along a road near Glidden, Wis.

The Sentinel quoted Breen as saying bad weather had forced them down on the isolated William Meid farm near Glidden and they spent the night at the farm house, where no telephone was available.

The hunters, according to the Sentinel, took Breen and Thompson to a Glidden tavern, where they telephoned the paper.

Late yesterday, icing and low ceilings turned search planes back for the third time in a day.

The Old Professor Pockets His Dice And Quizzes The Coaches

New York, Nov. 22.—(P)—The old professor had them rolling in the aisles. He was trying for that extra point, and when he didn't make it, he pocketed the cubes in disgust and called his Monday morning class of football coaches to order.

Old professor—Well, I came close anyway.

Lynn Waldorf, California—traditional games always are close, professor. Look at Ohio State and Michigan. Stanford really had a battling team. We gave them the ball too many times. I said at the pre-game rally I would be satisfied to win by one point. I should have kept my big mouth shut.

Marchy Schwartz, Stanford—our line played beautiful ball. California's line is very rugged and hard to run against. California's Jackie Jensen is the best back I've seen all season, and that includes Army.

What's With Harvard?

Old professor—Mr. Valepy, what's the matter? Is it the heat or the humidity?

Art Valpey, Harvard—neither, professor. It was my stupidity that called a fake field goal play. I thought it was fourth down, instead of third. That sloyed our offense and we lost a T.D. I feel we're really a team, and that's what won for us.

Herman Hickman, Yale—Harvard is the most beautifully drilled team I've seen all year. I promise we'll have a better team next year.

Old professor—the outlook is promising, I take it. Mr. Snavely, I see you won the duke. Or maybe I should say over Duke.

Carl Snavely, North Carolina—yes sir. Duke played a good ball game, but our boys played a better one. That touchdown run of Charles Justice broke up the game. Never run my line the way the play was going, and that made it tougher.

Wallace Wade, Duke—Carolina has a great team. They had too much for us and simply wore us down.

Old professor—Mr. Sukes, I have a couple of tickets to Oklahoma. Would you like to see it?

Kansas Tried!

Jules Sikes, Kansas—No thanks, professor. I've seen all of Oklahoma. I want to see it. It could have beaten any team in the country Saturday. My kids tried, but were outclassed.

Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma—the Sooners played a great game Saturday. Our downfield blocking was excellent. If I had to single out a star, I'd have to say Buddy Burris. But everyone of our 35 men carried out their assignments beautifully. Mitchell called the plays better than I could have done.

Old Professor—Like a good doctor, he never missed a call. Heh, heh. Pretty good for you, Mr. Bell, in the Cotton Bowl.

Matty Bell, Southern Methodist—whoo! It's almost like playing a Bowl game every weekend. Ever since 1947 when we beat Texas we have been the favorites in every game, and the pressure really is on. That Baylor line was tough, and George Sims is a good back. Kyle Rote played a very fine game.

Bob Woodruff, Baylor—it was one of those things. The game was in doubt until the final minute.

Quizze Oosterbaan

Old Professor—Mr. Oosterbaan, why are you tipping your hat?

Benny Oosterbaan, Michigan—it's off to Wes Fesler, professor. I think Ohio State has a great team. I can't say whether it was our toughest game, but I wouldn't attempt to pick a winner among Ohio State, Minnesota or Northwestern on the basis of Saturday's game.

Wes Fesler, Ohio State—we played it right up to the hilt. That's all you can ask. Michigan has terrific speed. You kept having the feeling that any minute one of them would go all the way. That pass interference ruling in the second quarter was the turning point. There was no question about it being interference. I think Michigan would have gotten but if it hadn't been called I don't out of the doghouse all afternoon.

Old Professor—my, my, it's late. I'll have to turn you loose now. Be careful of that Panther roaming around. I understand it clawed Penn State no little. Good day, gentlemen.

Beer Party Ends In Poison Death Of Young Widow

Van Buren, Mo., Nov. 22.—(P)—The jealousy poison death of a young widow, after 25 minutes of agonizing pain, resulted today in a murder charge against her fiancé.

Carl Peterson, 39, Fort Fairfield laborer, was held without bail. He will be arraigned in municipal court Friday.

The death of Mrs. Yvonne Poltras was the macabre climax early Sunday day of a gay midnight beer party in her parents' home.

Because he resented the attentions of Gene Cote, 35, of St. Leonard, N. B., to Mrs. Poltras, County Attorney James Archibald said Peterson told him he poured icy into beer meant for him. "By mistake," Mrs. Poltras got it.

"I didn't mean to do it," State Police Lt. Don Herron quoted the short, red-haired man as saying. "I didn't want to hurt her."

Peterson told Herron he and Mrs. Poltras had planned to be married in two weeks.

When he saw Mrs. Poltras drink the poisoned beer, Archibald quoted Peterson as saying, he "knew what was going to happen." Archibald said Peterson also told him:

"I left the house and sat in an automobile. I couldn't bear to see her die."

Archibald said Mrs. Poltras smashed furniture and tried to end her torment with a butcher knife as the searing fire burned her mouth and throat. Her father, Vital Pelletier, wrested the knife from her.

Cards Edge L.A., 27-24; Bears Run Over Boston

By BEN PHEGAR

New York, Nov. 22.—(P)—Two running and passing combinations that work together like beer and pretzels are bidding for attention in the rival pro football circuits.

The National League presents Tommygun Thompson and Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles. The All-American Conference counters with automatic Otto Graham and Marion Motley of the Cleveland Browns.

Since the two league's don't speak to each other officially, the relative merits of the pairs won't be determined on the gridiron.

Here's how their season's work compares on paper:

Average 246 Yards a Game

Thompson and Van Buren have moved the football on the ground and through the air 2,212 yards, just over a mile and a quarter, in nine games. That's an average of 246 yards a game.

Graham and Motley have picked up 2,886 in 10 contests via the same routes, an average of 289.

Van Buren, will on his way to breaking his own rushing record, has gained 824 yards on 183 carries. Every time he's lugged the ball he's averaged just over four and a half yards.

Motley, A 235-pound fullback who spent his college days at the University of Nevada, has crashed rival lines 133 times for 840 yards, an average of 6.32.

In the air Thompson has the edge in accuracy, Graham in distance. The Philadelphia sharpshooter has completed 100 passes out of 168 attempts for 1,388 yards. Graham has tried 261 passes, found his mark with 135 of them, and gained 2,046 yards. Thompson has tossed for 18 touchdowns, Graham 17.

Browns Wallop Yankees

Both combinations had good days yesterday. Graham and Motley powered the Browns to a 34-21 decision over the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Thompson and Van Buren led the Eagles to a 42-21 triumph over Washington at Philadelphia.

Motley carried a Graham pass 78 yards for a touchdown, Averaged 75 yards on 10 tries through the line and returned a kickoff 21 yards.

Graham completed nine passes for 211 yards as the Browns won their 14th straight victory over a two year period.

Thompson passed for three touchdowns and gained 184 yards on 12 completions. Van Buren carried the ball 29 times for 171 yards.

The Philadelphia victory virtually assured the Eagles of the Eastern division title in the National League. They have a game and a half edge over Washington with three to play—against Pittsburgh Sunday, Boston and Detroit.

Cards Edge Rams

Cleveland, western division leader in the all-American conference faces a much tougher road. The Browns have to meet Los Angeles in Los Angeles Thanksgiving Day and then face the 49ers in San Francisco Sunday.

Nothing much was done yesterday about settling the western division race in the National League except to make sure a Chicago team will win it.

Los Angeles, the last club that had a chance to share in the crown—lost it by bowing to the Chicago Cardinals, 27-24. The Rams didn't give up without a fight, however, especially by Quarterback Bob Waterfield.

The Chicago Bears had it easy in Boston, downing the hapless Yanks, 51-17. Frank Minihall tallied three times for the Packers.

Green Bay's Packers looked so bad in losing to New York 49-9, that coach Curly Lambeau asked waivers on one player and declared he'd "like to get rid of 10 or 12 more."

It was the Packers' worst loss in history. Charlie Conerly, the Giants' prize Rookie, wiped muddy hands on his jersey and completed 2 out of 29 passes.

Lions Upset Pittsburgh

Bill Dudley scored twice for Detroit as the Lions upset Pittsburgh, 17-14, at Detroit for their second victory of the season.

San Francisco and Brooklyn acted as if they'd never heard of the two platoon system. If they had, they forgot to bring the defensive units to Ebbets field yesterday. When the firing was all over San Francisco was on top, 63-40 and 12 assorted conference offensive records had been broken.

Los Angeles edged Baltimore, 17-14, on a field goal by Ben Agajanian with 35 seconds left to play. Teoless Ben missed three others during the afternoon.

Chicago and Buffalo were idle. The New York and Baltimore losses, however, left Buffalo all alone in first place in the eastern division of the AAC.

Northwestern Students Declare Rose Bowl Holiday

Chicago, Nov. 22.—(P)—Northwestern students today declared themselves a whopping holiday in celebration of their football team's Rose Bowl selection.

From the campus in suburban Evanston, the victory demonstration over -flowed into Chicago's loop. Student-crammed automobiles traveled bumper-to-bumper down state street with the occupants cutting loose with every kind of noise-maker.

Even before Northwestern's selection was announced by Commissioner E. L. "Tug" Wilson at 11 a.m., students had ordered pickets thrown around class-rooms to prevent anybody from entering.

The pickets were not needed. Some 8,000 students swarmed all over Evanston and traffic was tied in knots in the otherwise sedate northern suburb.

The kids sang, cheered and cavorted. "Open House" was declared at fraternity and sorority houses and an afternoon dance held at Patton gym.

By midmorning, handbills had been passed out all over the campus. They read:

"Today is Rose Bowl day — no classes!"

Bands played "California, here we come," and there was wild waving of placards bearing such legends as "Go West, Young Man," and "Smell Those Roses" and "N.U.!! make Waldorf salad"

California, Wildcats Meet In Rose Bowl

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 22.—(P)—It's California's Golden Bears versus Northwestern's Wildcats in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, and a Golden opportunity for Cal's Coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf to teach his old school new tricks.

The faculty fathers of the Big Nine and Pacific Coast conferences made their selections today for the 35th edition of the Tournament of Roses' football game—the sire of all Bowl events.

And the coast representative will be California, coached to an undefeated 10-game season by Waldorf, who used to ply his trade at Northwestern. Pappy made the Rose Bowl in his second year at Cal.

Master Vs. Pupil

It will be master versus pupil, too. Northwestern, which won seven of its nine games, is coached by young Bob Voigts, a Wildcat tackle under Waldorf in the late 1930's.

Waltz into Darkness
BY WILLIAM IRISH

Copyright by William Irish—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to marry him. She is young, ravishing, blond. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Downes, detective, to prove that a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in Black. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel.

XXI
THE page was later tonight in putting in an appearance. The colonel, therefore, had had one drink more than on their former evenings. This showed itself only in the added warmth of his friendliness, and in a tendency to clap and grip Durand on the upper arm at frequent intervals, in punctuation of almost every second remark he made.

"My fiancée is a lovely girl, Randall, a lovely girl," he reiterated solemnly.

"I'm sure she is," Durand said, as he had twice already. "I'm sure." Having corrected the mistake in nomenclature once for the evening, he no longer took the trouble after that, let Worth have his way about it.

"I tell you, I'm the luckiest man. But you should see her. You don't have to believe me; you should see her for yourself."

"Oh, I do believe you," Durand protested demurely.

"You should have a girl like that" (clap). "You should get yourself a girl like that" (clap, clap).

"We can't all be as lucky," Durand murmured, stropping the edge of one foot restlessly along the brass bar rail.

"I'd like to have you meet my fiancée. There's a girl."

"But I come in here every night myself," the colonel said uncertainly.

"But you know her; I'm a stranger to her. It's not the same thing."

Before Worth could make up his mind on this fine point of social etiquette, the habitual bellboy had come and delivered his summons.

"Your lady's down, sir."

The colonel put a coin in his gloved hand, drained his drink.

"Tell you what, I have a better idea. Suppose we make it a four-some. I'll have my fiancée bring someone along for you. She must know some of the unattached young ladies around here by now. That'll make it more comfortable for you. How about tomorrow night? Nothing on for then, have you?"

"Not a thing," said Durand, satisfied with having gained his reprieve for the present at least, and toying with the thought of sending his excuses sometime during the course of the following day as the best way of getting out of it. Any further reluctance at the moment, he realized, would have veered over into offense, even where such a thick-skinned individual as Worth was concerned.

"FINE!" said Worth, beaming. "That's an engagement, then. I'll tell you what's just the place for it. There's a little supper establishment called The Grotto. Open late. Not fast, you understand. Just good and lively. They have music there, and very good wine. We go there often. Miss Castle and I. Instead of meeting here at the hotel, where there are a lot of old fogies around ready to gossip, you join us there. I'll bring the two young ladies with me."

"Excellent," said Durand. The colonel rubbed his hands together gleefully.

"I'll engage a private alcove. They have them there, curtained off from prying eyes. Look for us, you'll find us in one of them." He tapped Durand on the chest with his index finger. "And don't forget the invitation's mine."

"I dispute you there," Durand said.

"We'll quarrel over that when the time comes. Tomorrow night, then. Understand?"

"Tomorrow night. Understood."

Worth went hurrying toward the page who stood waiting for him just within the doors.

Suddenly he turned, came hesitating back, rose on tiptoe, and whispered hoarsely into Durand's ear: "I forgot to ask you. Blond or brunette?"

Her image crossed Durand's mind for a minute. "Brunette," he said succinctly, and a flicker of pain crinkled his eyes momentarily.

The colonel dug an elbow into his ribs with ribald camaraderie. (To Be Continued)

FBI Joins Hunt For Sex Slayer Of 2-Year-Old Boy

St. Louis, Nov. 22.—(P)—The F.B.I. joined in a nationwide hunt tonight for William Norris Pollard, 25, a former mental patient, charged with the sex slaying of a two-year-old boy.

The child, Joseph Nichols, son of Mrs. Betty Nichols of Huntington, W. Va., was found dead in a hotel dresser drawer last Saturday, three days after Pollard checked out.

A murder warrant for Pollard was issued this afternoon, just after a coroner's jury found that the child died of internal hemorrhages after a sexual attack by Pollard, who comes from Cincinnati.

The mother attended the inquest. She arrived from Huntington yesterday and identified her baby, and she told of leaving him in Pollard's care for a trip to Ohio.

Her husband, thrice wounded in World War II, is a patient in the veterans' hospital at Chillicothe. He and Pollard became friends, Mrs. Nichols said, and that was why Pollard was welcomed at the Nichols home in Huntington early this month.

The mother continued: Pollard was to take the child to his home in Cincinnati, starting Nov. 11, while Mrs. Nichols visited her husband at Chillicothe. Then Pollard was to bring little Joseph to her at Chillicothe.

Mrs. Nichols identified Pollard from a photograph. So did the Rev. Paul Lawson of Stamford, Conn., who testified at the inquest that he gave Pollard and the child a ride last Tuesday from Zanesville, Ohio, to St. Louis. Pollard checked into the American hotel with the boy that night, and left alone the next morning.

Pollard was a mental patient in Longview hospital in Cincinnati three times between 1941 and 1945, and since 1940 had epilepsy in the army five times under different names, police reported.

The F.B.I. entered the search on the assumption Pollard had crossed a state line or might try to do so. It had the authority under the federal statute that makes it unlawful to cross a state line in flight to avoid prosecution.

Council Again Halts Action On Petition To Rezone Property

The question of whether a lot at the northeast corner of South Church and Chambers street should be rezoned to permit the building of a dairy store remained unanswered last night when the council, for a second time, voted to defer action on a petition.

A delegation of citizens protesting any amendment of the ordinance was present at the council meeting. They presented a written petition opposing a change of zone. Another group of citizens residing in the same neighborhood gave their approval to the petition to change the zone, in a written document read by the clerk.

John T. Hackett addressed the council on the seriousness of the elm disease which is sweeping through 14 central states, including Illinois. He expressed concern over the fate of Jacksonville's hundreds of fine elm trees, suggesting that the council and citizens might act in union to combat the menace, which has already killed between 1,500 and 2,000 trees in Springfield.

Another item of business was the decision by the council to enter into a contract with Charles Swan for seining rough fish from Lake Mauvaisterre, as a conservation measure to protect game fish.

City Clerk Phillips read the petition of property owners and tenants in the neighborhood of South Church and Chambers street, protesting the proposed change in zone of the lot where Cline & Schneider wish to erect a dairy store. The lot is now in the residential zone, and would be amended to local business use should the request of the dairy firm be granted.

The petition against rezoning was signed by O. H. Burman, Russell L. Vernor, Chris Horner, Victor Kruse, Cloyd DeFratres, Carl E. Christensen, Mrs. D. Sargent, Johnnie Ochart, Howard C. Schneider, Horatio Black, Catherine Craddock, Charles H. Adams and J. F. Claus.

Others favor dairy. Within a few minutes the council had before it another set of signatures asking approval of rezoning the lot. This petition was signed by Alley A. Sloan, Mrs. Alpha Nerganah, Bernard Strongman, John Henderson, Roy Fernandes, Paul Lindsey, Elizabeth Westrope, A. L. Garrison, Rosa Garrison, Deloris DeFratres and Ellsworth Matzall.

Signers of the petition asking approval stated that they had no objection to the proposed change and considered it an improvement and benefit to the area. Russell L. Vernor, a property owner, told the council the dairy establishment would be objectionable in the neighborhood for several reasons. He contended that it would result in noise, increase traffic in a residential district, and would lower property values.

Edward Cline, one of the petitioners, disputed statements that the dairy store would be objectionable. He said it would be a retail store and not a processing dairy, as some citizens had been led to believe.

Mayor Hoagland discussed with the council the procedure that might be taken on the petition, after which Clerk Phillips laid before the council the ordinance to amend the zone classification of the lot, which was read for the first time last July 12, and tabled one week later. The ordinance then was given second reading.

The mayor explained that passage would require two-thirds majority of the aldermen, as more than 20 percent of the property owners within 400 feet of the lot had signed a petition opposing the change of zone. As only six of the eight aldermen were present, unanimous vote would have been required.

Vote To Delay Action
Alderman Flynn moved, seconded by Alderman Baker, that the council defer action on the petition until a later date. All voted in the affirmative. Thus for a second time the request for rezoning was tabled.

In discussing the elm disease widespread in this section of the state, Mr. Hackett read from a pamphlet prepared by the Illinois Natural History Survey, which is assisting cities in the fight to protect trees which have not become infected.

"Jacksonville is known as a city of elms," Mr. Hackett said, "but if this disease hits us like it has Springfield and some other cities, we could no longer enjoy their beauty or shade."

He said the disease, called phloem necrosis, is caused by a virus, which is spread by leaf hoppers. The Illinois Natural History Survey states that there is no known cure for a tree which has become infected, but that the spread of the virus can be controlled by use of DDT as a spray to kill the leaf hoppers. Spraying must be done under high pressure with special equipment, and all trees in a community must be treated to make the operation effective.

Other Towns Lose Trees
Mr. Hackett said while a scientific survey of the trees has not been made here, he has been informed that symptoms of the disease have been detected. The elm disease has killed hundreds of large trees at Lincoln, Mattoon, Mt. Pulaski and Springfield.

The cost of removing dead elms in Springfield has been estimated at $66,000. Mr. Hackett believes it would be good business to save the trees, since the cost of removal of dead trees would be a major expense should the blight develop.

Mayor Hoagland and councilmen thanked Mr. Hackett for his presentation of facts. The mayor said he hoped other citizens will discuss the situation, which he regards as serious, and help the council develop a course of protective action.

To Seine Lake
The subject of seining Lake Mauvaisterre was presented by Charles Swan, who seined the lake at Nichols park lake several months ago with good results. Mr. Swan some time ago submitted a proposal to give the city one-fourth of the value of the rough fish taken, or to replace them pound for pound with game fish to be supplied by the state department of conservation.

Alderman Flynn moved, seconded by Alderman Costello, that the city attorney be instructed to enter into a contract for removal of the rough fish. The motion carried.

The clerk read a letter from City Superintendent of Schools D. R. Blodgett to Chief Kiloran and the police department, complimenting the department on its cooperation with the school system in handling problems which are referred to it.
